HARMONY EVIDENT IN LEGISLATURE

BUDGET STILL BIG TOPIC ON CAPITOL HILL

APPROPRIATION CUTS OF $1,100,000,000 ARE PROPOSED

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—A slash of one billion, one hundred million dollars in federal appropriations — approximately the amount of the treasury deficit for the first half of the current fiscal year—was proposed tonight by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

This extraordinary reduction in expenditures was urged upon congress on the eve of President-elect's Roosevelt's conference with his party's lgislative leaders, at which the reestablishment of a balanced budget will be a major topic.

Henry I. Harriman, president of the chamber, made the proposal in a letter to the house appropriations committee. It said the saving can be achieved by putting all federal activities back on the basis of 1925 operations, and by withdrawing the government entirely from business activity competing with private business.

The extent of the deficit for the first six months of the year was shown by today's government balance sheet.

As of December 30 the figures showed the United States $1,159,-26,502 behind.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—New ideas on legislation to balance the government's budget for next year are expected from tomorrow night's conference between President-elect Roosevelt and Democratic congressional leaders.

Mr. Roosevelt himself is standing by the role he has assumed of interested observer at the parley which he regards more as a session for talking things over than for settling upon one, two, three program.

However, the talk increases that the Capitol financial chieftains are reaching out for more tax revenue to help wipe out the billion dollar deficit. Drastic economy, of course, is agreed upon.

The tax discussion involves speculation of a levy upon interstate transportation. Undoubtedly this proposal, already advanced by some in Washington, will get consideration tomorrow night.

William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry company, spent almost two hours with the president-elect. This conference was said to relate to transportation.

Mr. Roosevelt is insistent that this session of congress dispose of the farm relief and budget issues. He realizes that the appropriations to be made now will be made for the first year of his administration of the government.

So around these two problems much of tomorrow night's meeting will center.

Detroit Hijackers Impersonate Police

Detroit, Jan. 4. (AP)—Two near downtown speakeasies in Detroit were raided today by hijackqers masquerading as police officers.

The hijackers, believed by police to be hoodlums from out of town, carried off cash registers, slot machines and quantities of liquor and beer. They worked swiftly, carefully maintaining their roles as policemen, witnesses said. Police said they had conducted no raids in that area today.

Byrd's Promise Fails to Quiet Indiana Senator

Washington, Jan. 4. (AP)—Rear Admiral Byrd's offer to give up his naval status "and all that goes with it"—including $4,200 annual retirement pay—if the American Legion would change its tactics on veterans compensation tonight fell short of satisfying the famous aerial explorer's outspoken critic, Senator Robinson of Indiana.

The "strings attached" by the aviator should be removed and the annuity surrendered, the Indianan said, if the aviator has "finally concluded that he is not entitled to the gratuity bestowed on him by the government."

Because of Byrd's activities as chairman of the national economy league, which has advocated before the joint congressional committee reductions of $450,000,000 annually in veterans expenditures, Robinson said in the senate yesterday "to be sincere" the explorer should return his retirement pay.

In reply, Byrd offered to give up his navy status "and all that goes with it," explaining he was an officer subject to emergency duty, if the American Legion "which the senator represents, will favor before congress the repeal of that dangerous, costly law which grants pensions to veterans of all our wars who received no injury or disability from war service."

After reading this statement, Robinson observed "If I understand Admiral Byrd's statement, he now offers to surrender his pension of $4,200, provided the government will do a grave injustice to thousands of disabled veterans by depriving them of their allowances and vested rights."

FRENCH LINER BURNS, 17 DEAD

Vessel Was Enroute to Havre to Get Overhauling

Cherbourg, France, Jan. 5 (Thursday) (AP)—The luxurious liner Atlantique was wrecked by a furious fire Wednesday in the English channel while proceeding to Havre for overhauling without passengers. The loss of lives was placed early this morning at 17.

Latest available figures here showed that 228 persons were aboard, of whom 211 arrived here during the night on four rescue vessels.

The victims either suffocated at their posts of duty or drowned when a lifeboat upset.

The wreck was still burning this morning and was being blown in a northerly direction in a rough sea. The vessel was owned by the Compagnie de Navigation Sud-Atlantique of Paris.

The cause of the blaze, which started at 3:30 a. m. Wednesday off the Isle of Guernsey, remained undetermined this morning.

UNREST FLARES ON IOWA FARM

Foreclosure of Mortgage Halted With Threat Of Lynchings

Le Mars, Ia., Jan. 4 (AP)—Farm unrest, smouldering for months in the Iowa corn belt, flamed anew today with threats to lynch a representative of a mortgage holder and forcible detention of a jurist who sought to summon aid.

The demonstration occurred at a foreclosure sale when Herbert S. Martin, attorney for the New York Life Insurance company, submitted a sealed bid for the John A. Johnson farm of $30,000 —$3,000 less than the amount of the mortgage held by his company.

The farmers, numbering between 500 and 800, dragged him from the court house steps. Brandishing a rope they threatened hanging, tar and feathers, and riding him out of town on a rail.

Finally released, Martin wired officials of his company asking permission to raise the bid. He ended his wire with a plea to "rush answer, my neck at risk."

A few hours later he received a wire permitting him to increase his bid the $3,000 and after consummation of the sale officials agreed to postpone any further mortgage sales for one month.

PROBATE JUDGE OFFICE FILLED

Comstock Orders Check On Status of Chelsea Cement Plant

Lansing, Jan. 4 (AP)—Waldo J. Curtis, Democrat, was named probate judge in Isabella county today as Governor William A. Comstock's first judicial appointee.

Curtis' appointment ended a controversy which arose upon the death of John N. Meyer, probate judge elect, December 31. Charles Cassady, veteran probate judge, maintained that he was entitled to remain in office until another election was held. Isabella county Democrats maintained that the office should be filled by appointment, and secured a corroborative ruling from the attorney general's office.

MILITARY RULE IN MINE AREAS

Snipers Shoot Workers; Soldiers on Guard At Kincaid, Ill.

Taylorville, Ill., Jan. 4 (AP)—Christian county was tensely quiet tonight, the bitterness of interunion mine strife held in check by the guns of the military.

Military rule had returned to this scene of strife between rival unions after an eleven day experiment with civil peace.

The first of five Illinois national guard companies, recalled after the civil forces found they could not cope with the sniping and hidden machine gun nests of the miners, took up sentry duty shortly before dusk, leaving the sheriff's deputies free to round up the gunners who slew two persons and wounded a score more last night and today.

Nerves were on edge in Kincaid, the little mining community seven miles west of Taylorville where a clash signalized the renewal of strife between the United Mine Workers Union and the Progressive Miners of America.

Fight for Homes

To many residents, it was war for their homes, for Kincaid was a center loyal chiefly to the Progressive Miners cause, and the Peabody mine No. 7, focus of battle Tuesday night, was operated under contract with the United Mine Workers of whom many were brought in from other parts of the state. They accepted the $5 basic wage contract signed by United Mine Workers and Illinois coal operators last year; the Progressive miners, many of them former employes at Peabody No. 7, were picketing to wrest control for their union.

Snipers picked off the workers as they approached the pit this morning. Two miners were wounded.

Sheriff Charles Weineke, awaiting the aid of state militiamen, held a score of prisoners in the Christian county jail and sent his deputies out with warrants for 25 men and women, charging murder.

Officially Dead, Inherits $200,000

Santa Maria, Calif., Jan. 4 (AP)—Working as a common laborer on the ranch of Leon Laborde, near here, Arthur Chickley Roper-Gurzon, descendant of the Earl of Teynham, waited today for attorneys in Guelph, Ontario, Canada, to take the steps which will bring him the proceeds of an English inheritance.

Lost to his kin for a score of years and declared dead officially five years ago by an English court, Roper-Gurzon was found near here through the efforts of J. R. Howitt, K. C., of Guelph, executor of the estate of Arthur's elder brother, Sidney, who died last year at the age of 62.

The two brothers fell heir jointly to the $200,000 estate of their aunt in 1925 but Sidney became the sole inheritor after a long search had failed to dislodge the whereabouts of Arthur and a chancery court of England finally declared him dead.

CHINESE DEATH TOLL IS 2,000

Japan Demands Control Of Walled City as Neutral Zone

(By The Associated Press)

Proposals for the neutralization of Shanhaikwan have followed the occupation of that important gateway city by the Japanese army after an attack in which they reduced its defenses by bombardment from land, sea and air.

In Shanghai it was reported that the Japanese had presented three demands to Marshal Chang Hsiao-Liang, Chinese military leader.

These demands were: that the Chinese apologize for the Shanhaikwan incident; that the Japanese be accorded control of the railway station in that city; and that Shanhaikwan be made a neutral area.

A spokesman for Marshal Chang denied any demands had been made, but Japanese newspapers in Tokyo carried dispatches saying truce proposals had been presented along these lines.

A Peiping dispatch told of Marshal Chang's blunt refusal to accept responsibility for the battle of Shanhaikwan or to have any further negotiations with the Japanese concerning it.

Estimates of the casualties put the Chinese dead anywhere from 300 to 2,000.

Escanaba Radio Operator Helps In S. O. S. Call

An Escanaba amateur radio operator, Roy Browne, 315 South Sixteenth street, played an important part early yesterday morning in the rushing of medical supplies from Winnipeg, Manitoba, to the isolated community of Red Lake, Ontario, which has been hit by an epidemic of influenza and other illness.

At one o'clock yesterday morning, Canadian short wave Station VE3OK was heard by Mr. Browne to be trying to communicate with Chicago or Minneapolis regarding two very urgent messages which had to be sent by Western Union telegraph immidiately. Station VE3OK is located at Red Lake, which is without telegraphic or railroad communications, and has only an amateur radio station as an outlet to the outside world. The messages referred to medical supplies which had to be administered to the flu stricken area.

Local Station W9FSK, operated by Browne here, immediately got in contact with VE3OK, and due to skip distance could not relay to Chicago or Minneapolis. Browne then called an eastern station and had the latter contact Chicago, because of its being out of the skip distance area. Station W9FSK got into contact with W2AFV in Rosebank, Staten Island, N. Y., which in turn with some difficulty due to the early hour finally contacted W9MW in Chicago.

The messages were then phoned by W9MW to the Chicago office of the Western Union, which sent the message to Winnipeg before the relief plane, scheduled to hop to Red Lake, had departed. The necessary medical supplies were taken aboard the plane.

TWO ARRESTED FOR CALF THEFT

Charged with entering the barn at the Ed. Strohl farm, old State Road at the west city limits, killing a calf and carrying away the carcass, two brothers, Lawrence and Harold Propsom, were placed under arrest yesterday. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Henry E. Ranguette late yesterday afternoon, Lawrence, 27, waived examination and was bound over to circuit court under $500 bail, while Harold, 24, demanded a preliminary hearing, which was set for this morning in Justice Ranguette's court.

Going to his barn Tuesday morning, Strohl found only the head and entrails of the calf. Sheriff William E. Miron and Police Officer Philip Bruce went out to investigate the case. They picked up a trail of bloodstains and followed it down a road and through the woods to a shack, about two miles away, in which the Propsom brothers were living.

The pair was brought to the county jail for questioning, and at first denied having any knowledge of the theft. Grilled yesterday afternoon, however, by Prosecuting Attorney William J. Miller, Lawrence signed a written confession that he had killed the calf and carried away the carcass unassisted. He also told the officers where the loot was hidden. Returning to the shack, the officers found the carcass secreted under the porch while the hide of the calf was found in a sack that had been hidden nearby.

The calf was six months old and weighed about 125 pounds.

BOTH PARTIES SEEK TO SAVE STATE MONEY

JUNKETS ABOLISHED; GOVERNOR GIVING MESSAGE TODAY

Lansing, Jan. 4 (AP)—The fifty-seventh legislature officially opened its regular session today with the greatest rush of governmental economy measures in history.

DEMAND SALES TAX

Lansing, Jan. 4 (AP)—The 1933 session of the legislature opened today with a demand from the Michigan Real Estate Association for a sales tax to finance school expenditures, a moratorium on tax sales, and instalment payment of delinquent taxes.

The association also urged: that city and village street maintenance be financed out of state highway revenues; further governmental economies, and repeal of the statutes fixing the salaries of public officials.

tive commission for inquiry into state governmental costs into the files. In all 95 measures were introduced. Combined they provide for an estimated $5,000,000 annual reduction in the state budget. Scores of proposals were included, such as limiting the University of Michigan and Michigan State college to mill tax collections, reducing the state police personnel, abolishing the state securities commission and setting up a centralized budgeting and financing system. All were in strict accordance with the program made public by the commission two weeks ago.

Clerk Not Chosen

An occurrence of the opening session that appeared to carry significance was that partisan lines were strictly adhered to on purely party matters, but members of the Democratic majority seemed to be willing to join with the Republicans on measures pertaining to economy. The Democrats moved to defer the election of a clerk, some of them hoping later to name a successor to Myles F. Gray, Republican incumbent. Representative Hartman, one of the Republican leaders, demanded a roll call and the 55 Democrats stood solidly together in favor of the delay while the 45 Republicans voted unanimously for an immediate election.

A few moments later the choice of the Democrats for house postmaster, Claude Aldrich of East Lansing, came up for ratification. Democratic and Republican leaders joined in stating it might be possible to combine senate and house postoffices "to save the taxpayers some money." Enough Democrats voted against their own candidate to defeat ratification and start an inquiry to see whether a consolidation can be effected.

Appropriations Bill Pared to the Limit

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Another closely-pared appropriation bill was sent to the senate late today by the house.

It carried $31,421,000 to meet deficiencies in appropriations made last session for the current fiscal year.

Despite numerous attempts on the floor to amend the measure, it passed without a single change.

The bill as sent to the senate, where those for the treasury-postoffice, interior and agriculture departments already await action, carried $28,000,000 for tax refunds, $200,000 for the labor department's employment service, $625,000 for relief in the District of Columbia, $1,000,000 for fighting forest fires, and various lesser items.

Pere Marquette Train Is Wrecked

Chatham, Ont., Jan. 4 (AP)—The Pere Marquette mixed mail train, Windsor to Chatham, was partially wrecked tonight at the village of Wheatley, on the border line between Essex and Kent counties. Due here at seven o'clock tonight, the wreck blocked the line and although wrecking crews were on the scene shortly afterwards it was expected it will be well on in the morning before the line can be cleared.

Veto is Indicated For Philippine Bill

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Congressional sponsors of Philippine independence tonight were mustering their forces for a determined effort to override the expected veto of the measure now on President Hoover's desk freeing the islands after a ten year period of transition.

Presidential disapproval of the bill became almost an absolute certainty a little earlier. Mr. Hoover turned the measure over to Secretary Hurley for recommendations and these, the cabinet officer strongly indicated, would favor a veto.

Friends of the legislation were confident they could pass the bill by the necessary two-thirds vote in the house, but were doubtful about the senate.

As he left the White House with a copy of the bill in his pocket, Mr. Hurley conceded that the measure had been improved since it left committee a year ago but added he had seen nothing yet" that would alter his opposition to it.

The bill as placed upon the president's desk yesterday was a compromise of senate and house differences, and would grant the islands freedom after a ten-year transitional period.

The chief executive has been silent upon the present bill, but has given no indication of any change in his attitude since discussing the subject publicly more than a year ago, immediately after Secretary Hurley's return from a Philippine inspection tour.

Lake Freighter Bucks Thick Erie Ice 3 Days

Cleveland, Jan. 4. (AP)—The freighter F. B. Squire slipped into harbor here at dusk today, her bow scraped to a ruddy hue from a three-day encounter with thick ice on the north shore of Lake Erie.

Although port authorities at Toledo and Detroit had maintained a watch since Monday night for her, Captain William Anderson said "We were running light and were headed for Cleveland to lay over for the winter." The Squire left Buffalo Sunday.

The boat tried the ice toward Detroit, however, Captain Anderson said, adding "We took a look at that ice and decided we didn't like Detroit just then."

A member of the crew, one of 30, described the experience less mildly.

"We hit the ice at noon Monday. It had a nasty look and was at least two feet thick. We made ten miles through it and turned back. Take a look at our bow if you want to know."

"The Squire will lay over for the winter here," the captain said. "The men are all right, except that two of them have a touch of the 'flu,' which might have happened anywhere. As for our running time, you know we couldn't move at night. There were no lights anywhere, and we dropped our anchor at dark each night."

Foundling, Adopted By Reporter, Dies

Shreveport, La., Jan. 4 (AP)—The men who write those plays about hard boiled newspapermen ought to know about Clinton Sanders, 24 and unmarried, who celebrated Christmas by adopting a foundling infant in the juvenile court on his beat.

There wasn't any publicity until today when Sanders, grief-stricken, buried the child after more than a week of tender care and constant medical attention had failed to counteract the effects of long privation.

Sanders was just covering another routine story the other day when he stood in juvenile court and heard two hitch hiking parents with two small children tell the court they were penniless. The children were left at the mercy of the court. Sanders found seven-months-old Michael Harper, deserted, looking up at him with mild, unworried eyes.

After some consultation with the court, Sanders took little Michael home to his own parents "to get a fresh start."

But Michael's chance came too late and he died yesterday.

Johnson Attacks Defaulting Nations

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—With an explosive debate that ended in a shouted dispute over whether President Hoover asked congressional leaders for authorization to promise war debt revision to Premier Laval, the senate today abruptly blew off the lid it clamped tightly upon that subject while international negotiations on it were in progress.

It began with Johnson of California bitterly assailing France and other defaulting nations and reached its conclusions with Borah of Idaho, defiantly upholding his assertion that Mr. Hoover sought backing for such a pledge, in the face of staunch denials from Republican leaders.

Johnson demanded enactment of his resolution now pending under which any flow of American resources to defaulting nations would be ended at once.

Key Industries See Better Times Ahead

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Business spoke for itself today in reports to the commerce department as to the 1933 outlook. One third said business would be better this year.

Secretary Chapin, in a press conference, said that of replies from 44 key industries throughout the nation fifteen expressed the opinion that business in their particular lines would be better, six were doubtful, four looked for no pronounced change in either direction, one anticipated some further reductions and eight were not definite but hopeful concerning 1933 prospects. Ten made no mention of 1933.

The secretary said a great surplus of raw material was being built up, so he did not fear an undue rise in prices as business improved.

Value Of Veneers In Furniture Shown

Grand Rapids, Jan. 4 (AP)—Malcolm H. Sherwood, internationally known expert on furniture woods and veneers, told furniture retailers gathered here at the one-hundred-eleventh semi-annual furniture style institute that a substantial portion of their sales difficulties arise from ignorance of their own product.

Sherwood, a resident of Watervliet, Mich., has traveled around the world in making his studies of woods and wood finishing. "Unless you know what you are offering how can you sell intelligently?" he asked. He declared that many furniture salesmen in the business for more than 20 years are still unable to distinguish between maple and expensive imported woods.

Using exhibits of veneers and wood samples, Sherwood demonstrated the value of veneers in furniture fabrication and showed how logs are cut to bring out their grain and natural beauty.

Labor Party Will Support De Valera

Dublin, Irish Free State, Jan. 4 (AP)—The labor party decided tonight to give its support to President Eamon de Valera in the election January 24.

The announcement of the labor party's support of the president followed by a few hours the decision of Frank MacDermott, head of the farmers league, the former President William T. Cosgrave that the time until the election was too short to complete preparations for forming a national party to oppose the president.

Until tonight's action the position of the seven labor members of the Dail Eireann, on whose votes Mr. de Valera's majority has depended for several months, had been uncertain.

Indictment Stands In Double Slaying

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 4 (AP)—John J. Halloran lost today the first skirmish in his fight to have quashed the indictment accusing him of having concealed from authorities alleged knowledge of the double slaying for which Winnie Ruth Judd is sentenced to die on Feb. 17.

Superior Judge Howard C. Speakman refused to set aside the indictment, against which Halloran's counsel had argued on grounds of alleged unfairness and illegality in the selection of the grand jury, and alleged bias and prejudice on the part of the grand jurors.

The Phoenix lumberman countered with a demurrer, challenging the indictment itself on nine points of alleged deficiency.

Racketeer Buried; Gunmen On Guard

White Plains, N. Y., Jan. 4 (AP)—The secrecy—and the bodyguards—that surrounded Larry Fay in his career as a racketeer and night club operator followed him to his grave today.

It was first announced that funeral services for Fay, killed Sunday night in the New York night club he managed, would be held tomorrow morning. But late today the funeral party in nine automobile drove into the gate of a cemetery north of White Plains.

During the services nine men detached themselves from the group of about 35. With their hands in their overcoat pockets, they kept outsiders far enough away so that they could not take pictures or see the individuals gathered about the grave.

"If you make a move, we'll let you have it," said the men.

"Keep 'em covered," called a man who appeared to be their leader from a point near the grave.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Nine persons tonight remained eligible to contest the will of the late Ella Wendel disposing of an estate valued by the courts at $40,000,000, after Surrogate James Foley completed his hearings on the 2,303 claims that had been filed.

The opinion said that the only persons recognized as the closest relatives of Miss Wendel, being related in the fifth degree of consanguinity are: Rosa Dew Stansbury of Vicksburt, Miss., Grace McQuarrie, Leah B. Butler, Edeva B. Irwin, Gail B. Waite, Effie B. Bush, Holland V. Barney, Hattie B. Simmons, and the estate of Laura O. Harrison.

Gangsters Assist Chicago Police In Counterfeit Plot

Chicago, Jan. 4 (AP)—With Chicago gangsters aiding in the case, the federal grand jury today indicted Henry Dechow, who posed for years as a member of German nobility, in connection with a quarter million dollar counterfeiting plot.

Among the witnesses appearing before the grand jury, secret service Captain Thomas J. Callighan said, were representatives of gangsters who had been victimized by Dechow with the counterfeit.

Dechow was arrested at Newark, N. J., last night as he alighted from a Montreal airplane, Callighan said the gangsters had traced him to Montreal and frightened him into going to Newark, where federal agents awaited.

More than $200,000 worth of the spurious money was said by Callighan to have been printed in Germany and brought to America by Dechow.

Dechow was named in the indictment as "Count Enrique Dechow Von Buelow," the name under which he married Mrs. Lottie Brenner, widow of a Chicago alderman. She divorced him in 1930.

Callighan said Dechow told the gangsters that the money was stolen and sold it to them for 30 cents on the dollar. He said the gangsters cooperated in the case to escape federal prosecution.

Rodanthe, N. C., Jan. 4 (AP)—Tonight Santa Claus comes to residents of North and South Rodanthe and tomorrow they will celebrate Old Christmas.

December 25 is passed over with never a thought about hung stockings, presents or Christmas trees on this outer banks island village but tonight children were wide-eyed in expectation of what tomorrow will hold for them.

Twelfth Night, or Old Christmas, has been observed here for generations as tradition handed down from forefathers who long ago celebrated the same day, 12 days after most of the other Christian world had done honor to the birth of Christ.

Minneapolis Mail Loot Sets Record

Minneapolis, Jan. 4 (AP)—Approximately $100,000 in cash and an undetermined amount of securities was disclosed today as the loot of six or eight men who took three pouches of registered mail from a depot here last night.

The amount of cash, said police and postal inspectors, set a new high for a single robbery in Minnesota.

With such precision was the robbery carried out that investigators were not even certain how many men participated. That the robbers knew shipments of currency were being made by local banks was a certainty, postal inspectors asserted.

Automobile Accident Death Rate Lower

Chicago, Jan. 4 (AP)—There were 16 percent fewer persons killed in automobile acidents during 1932 than in the previous year, the National Safety Council estimated today.

Total fatalities were given as 29,000, the lowest toll since 1928 when 27,996 deaths were reported. Less traffic and more effective safety efforts were given as the reasons for the decline in fatalities.

Pittsburgh reported a 29 percent decrease in deaths, the state of Indiana 22 percent, and Wisconsin 17 percent.

Horses Bring 3c At Sheriff Sale

Doylestown, Pa., Jan. 4 (AP)—A sheriff's sale of farm property in which horses brought three cents, a bull five cents and three pigs for the same amount, left Bucks county authorities puzzled today over what to do about a farmers' organization, newly formed to prevent members from being sold out.

Sheriff Horace C. Winner yesterday put property from the farm of John Hensel under the auction hammer to satisfy a judgment for $1,800, but he realized only $1.80 from the sale.

Representatives of the recently organized Farmers Protective Association said they attended the sale to offer low bids.

None of the property was removed and after the sale a collection was taken up to buy food for the farmer's three motherless children.

Boy Smiles, Gets Life Imprisonment

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP)—James Reges Martin, 16 year old Iowa City, Ia., honor student, smiled, tapped his fingers on a desk and gazed unconcernedly about in circuit court today as Judge John Vanderwerp sentenced him to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary at Jackson for the slaying of Hans Nielson, oil station proprietor during an attempted hold up.

The boy will be taken to the penitentiary tomorrow.

Nielsen was shot and killed in an attempted hold up November 4. The following day Martin was taken from a Chicago-bound bus in Benton Harbor. A cap purchased in Muskegon and found near the oil station led to his arrest. A clerk who sold the cap to the youth described him and officers learned he had left on the south-bound bus.

Democrats On Trial, Opinion Of McAdoo

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 4 (AP)—William G. McAdoo declared today the Roosevelt landslide in November was not "a party victory" and voiced his opinion that the Democratic party is on trial.

Speaking before Californians delegated to vote today as members of the electoral college for Franklin D. Roosevelt for president, the former treasury secretary and Democratic United States senator-elect interpreted the general election result as a "great progressive revolt."

He predicted destruction of the Democratic party unless it relieves conditions which he attributed to a 'diseased economic system" and "stupid, stand-pat, reactionary leadership of the Republican party."

Saginaw Suburbs Denied Firemen

Saginaw, Mich., Jan. 4 (AP)—Officials of suburban territory sought a compromise plan with the City of Saginaw tonight following withdrawal of fire department protection from the suburbs. In successive nights, two suburban homes have burned to the ground without response from Saginaw firemen, acting upon orders of the city council.

City officials of Carrollton, nearby village, have dispatched a letter to the council denouncing their action, and requesting a return of the $300 deposit filed by the township for fire protection. The council returned the deposit.

Farm Relief Bill Taxation Opposed

Washington, Jan. 4 (AP)—Serious and determined opposition to the taxation features of the Democratic farm relief bill was mustering tonight on the eve of consideration of the plan by the house.

While two members of the farm board gave their approval in principle to the emergency aid legislation during the day the indications grew that amendments would be numerous. Efforts will be made to add rice, peanuts and dairy products to the four major staples already in the bill—wheat, cotton, tobacco and hogs.

But the chief threat to the measure as it is now drafted lay in a determination of how hard its tax provisions might hit the average consumer.

NEW SCRIP PLAN

Grand Rapids, Jan. 4 (AP)—The city commission Thursday will draft its report of the investigation on advisability of adopting so-called "self-redeeming scrip" as an unemployment relief measure here. Under the proposed plan, tax stamps affixed to the scrip every time it changes hands would pay for its retirement. A majority of the commissioners have expressed themselves as opposed to the plan.

BOTH PARTIES SEEK TO SAVE STATE MONEY

willingness of the two parties to work together seemed to be blowing in the wind. Speaker Martin R. Bradley, whose election to that post was ratified this afternoon, immediately recommended that legislative junkets be dispensed with this session. This was in accord with the report of the cost inquiry commission. The house, with Democrats and Republicans concurring, authorized a reduced number of clerks and janitors, with a saving of several thousand dollars. This also complied with the recommendations of the Republican cost commission.

Aside from introduction of the group of bills designed to carry out the economy program the legislature marked time awaiting Governor William A. Comstock's message Thursday. A petition was filed by Walter F. Jackson, Republican candidate for re-election to the house from the Mecosta county district, asking for a recount, but no action was taken. He charged that Lawrence O'Neill, Democrat, who defeated him by one vote, benefitted by numerous errors. If further action is taken a resolution ordering it will have to be adopted by the house. The body is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members and it was not considered likely the Democratic majority would unseat one of its number in favor of a Republican.

Southworth Praised

The house members were sworn in by Chief Justice John S. MacDonald, of the supreme bench. In addition to the ratification of Bradley as speaker, the selection of Representative Tracy W. Southworth, of Monroe, as speaker pro tem, was confirmed. Southworth was praised by Democrats and Republicans alike for withdrawing from the speakership contest and "preserving harmony." Speaker Bradley told the members it is the "clear duty of this legislature to cut governmental costs as heavily as individuals have been forced to cut."

The legislature convenes in joint session Thursday afternoon at one o'clock to hear Governor Comstock's program and the exaugural message of former Governor Wilber M. Brucker.

GET PICK OF JOBS

Lansing, Jan. 4 (AP)—The state senate opened its 1933 legislative sessions today with the Democratic majority capturing most of the choice political plums.

Twenty-eight Democratic chairmen were chosen to head committees out of a total of thirty-eight assignments by Lieutenant Governor Allen E. Stebbins. Eight of the ten Republican chairmen named were chosen for relatively minor committees.

The senate ratified the organization of the Democratic caucus by naming Senator Leon D. Case, Watervliet, president pro-tem; Don Canfield, Detroit, secretary, and George B. McNally, Ionia, sergeant at arms. The Republican minority voted solidly for Fred I. Chase for secretary and Grove M. Rouse, sergeant.

Henry Somerville Of Menominee Dies

Menominee, Jan. 3 (Special)—Death claimed one of the twin cities' oldest residents on Saturday evening in St. Joseph's hospital, when Henry D. Somerville succumbed to a paralytic stroke which he suffered early last week.

After their marriage the couple went to Suamico where they resided for some time before returning to Menominee.

The deceased spent his entire life in the lumber business on the Menominee river, having been affiliated with the K. C. company and numerous other Menominee river lumber concerns.

The survivors are a daughter, Mrs. John M. Thompson, of this city, and a son, Harry A. Somerville of Marinette.

THEATRES

If the nervous suspense had been carried one degree further in Radio Pictures' "The Phantom of Crestwood," which opened yesterday at the Delft Theatre, the audience would have started chewing up the chairs and—perhaps—each other.

If this is not the perfect mystery drama, we do not know what could be. The skill of its construction is such that any of a dozen characters might have killed the luscious and unscrupulous gold-digger, played by Karen Morley.

Story, acting, direction, photography, all are uncannily good, far too good for one's nervous system. The settings are acutely, disturbingly realistic.

Written originally for the screen by Bartlett Cormack and J. Walter Ruben, and directed by the latter, this shatterer of one's peace and composure gains its title from its locale, Crestwood, an estate located on the California coast.

GARDEN NEWS

Garden, Mich., Jan. 4 (Special)—A Garden resident celebrating his birthday on the first of the year was Fred Rost of Van's Harbor, the event being celebrated in a very quiet way, due to the fact that Mr. Rost has been seriously sick since Thanksgiving Day. While much better, he is still unable to leave his home.

A chicken coop owned by Herbert Pizzala of Sack Bay, and containing ten chickens, was burned to the ground, with its contents just prior to Christmas. Some ashes had been carried from the stove earlier in the day and placed in the snow to cool off. Later they had been carried in the hen house. It was about ten o'clock at night when neighbors noticed the place in flames. No other damage was done, but a change in the wind would have involved a number of other buildings. Only a short time prior to the fire, Mr. Pizzala had taken twenty-two chickens, and a good sized hog from the coop so that the loss was not as large as it might have been.

Clouds of dust greeted motorists using the main highways on the Garden peninsula during the holiday season, an unusual condition at this time of the year. One reader reports that his entire flock of hens found a warm spot in his garden and were enjoying a dust bath.

Mrs. Gray Knause of Cornell is spending a few days as guest of Mrs. W. D. Hughes of Fayette.

A chimney fire blew out a flue in the one of the upstairs rooms of the David Thill home at Fayette recently. A slow fire was started on the floor and it was not until several hours later that one of the children noticed a small hole in the ceiling of one of the rooms downstairs. It was observed that this enlarged and the attention of the parents was called. An investigation revealed the fire upstairs. It was put out before serious damage was done.

A cordial welcome for all at the little churches.

A number of local people, including farmers who are able to let the livestock out on pasture again, are rejoicing because of the mild weather of the past few days. This change however is not so fortunate for many others in this district. Fishermen would prefer steady cold weather to enable them to continue their winter fishing activities. A number of farmers, with hay and other farm produce to sell had been expecting to haul over the ice to Nahma, but the mild weather of the past week has made the ice on the bay too weak for safety. If the soft weather continues, they will have to take the much longer route by road which will greatly increase their expenses of getting their produce to market.

Cecil Shawl of Fairport and Audrey Tatrow of Garden motored to Green Bay, taking with them the former's sister Evelyn, who had spent the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Len Shawl.

A DESERVED HONOR

HISTORY for the upper peninsula of Michigan was written at Lansing yesterday, when Representative Martin R. Bradley, of Hermansville, became the first upper peninsula man ever to be elected as speaker of the Michigan house of representatives. The election of Mr. Bradley, assured at a caucus of Democratic members of the house on Tuesday night, was formally consummated when the house organization was perfected yesterday.

It was not only as a reward for party loyality, through long, lean years, but also in recognition of outstanding service, through six years as a member of Michigan's lower house, that the election of Mr. Bradley to the highest office within the gift of the Michigan House of Representatives was brought about. Mr. Bradley was numbered as a Democrat in the days when members of his party were as scarce as proverbial hens' teeth, in these upper peninsula counties but the high place held by him the estimation of the people of his home county, normally Republican, was proven six years ago when he was elected to the legislature and reelected at each succeeding election . Mr. Bradley was not a partisan politician in his service in the legislature, through the past three sessions, but rather one of the members of the body consistently found voting for state measures he believed to be right and opposing those principles he believed to be against the best interests of the people of the state.

It is a fine and a deserved honor that has come to Mr. Bradley, personally and, in addition, it is a distinct honor that the new speaker has brought to his home section of Michigan, for the first time in the history of the state.

FOOD FOR CHILDREN

ONE of the serious results growing out this period of great unemployment is the undermining of the health of the youth of the land because of malnutrition.

Most of the causes of the breakdown of our social and economic structure were man-made, but certainly it was no fault of our children. And they should not be forced to suffer the bad effects of present day conditions if anything can be done to prevent it. Everything possible should be done to preserve their physical, moral and mental stamina so that they will be well equipped to tackle the problems of the future.

It is probably with this thought in mind that the Escanaba-Wells Kiwanis club has again decided to sponsor a benefit entertainment to obtain funds for the feeding of undernourished children of poor families in the public and parochial schools of the community. The Kiwanis club has sponsored similar events in the last two years, and received splendid cooperation from the public. On each occasion, a neat sum of money was raised for providing appetizing, warm lunches for the unfortunate boys and girls, who are attending our schools.

No child can study well on an empty stomach. Malnutrition eventually leads to various ailments, with the result that the physical and mental condition becomes seriously impaired. A satisfactory attendance at the Kiwanis club's entertainment at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium Monday evening, Jan. 23, will prevent all this. A fine entertainment program is being arranged, worth every bit of the price of admission. At the same time, those who purchase tickets will be performing a valuable service to the unfortunate children of the community.

GAINING RECOGNITION

APPRECIATION by the people of the United States of the value of the annual beet sugar crop to this nation, is beginning to spread, coincident with a breaking down of an unfounded housewifely prejudice against beet sugar. Scientific experiments have proven that beet sugar is of equal standard as the finest cane sugar and a prejudice that in earlier years prevented extensive domestic use is gradually being eliminated.

The beet sugar industry is a highly important one to the upper peninsula and to Michigan and the development and well being of the industry should interest every thinking citizen. When the Menominee sugar plant was in operation a considerable acreage of beets was annually raised in Delta county. When the ills of the industry, resulting from unrestrained competition with tropically produced cane sugar, caused the closing of the Menominee plant, the beet sugar acreage was drastically reduced. In the past year or two three has been developed a revival of interest in beet sugar raising among the farmers of this and other counties.

In earlier years many farmers of this and adjoining counties recognized sugar beets as one of their most important cash crops and to restore this crop to its former status could well be made to the object of an intensive local interest.

Many Americans, who seldom hear of the beet sugar industry except during heated tariff controversies, recently witnessed a clearcut and impressive demonstration of how beneficially the industry functions during national emergency.

The beet harvest, which began in August in California, relieved unemployment also through the Rocky Mountain states, Ohio, Wisconsin, and Michigan.

Farmers in 18 states received over $40,000,000 cash for a crop estimated to produce 1,000,000 tons of granulated sugar, approximately one-sixth of the nation's annual requirement.

Officers of The United States Beet Sugar Association say that general economic adversity has focused favorable attention on the beet sugar industry. Sugar beets compete with no other continental crop, and domestic sugar has probably the widest unappropriated market of any agricultural crop. Thus every additional acre in sugar beets means one less acre of surplus cereals.

According to W. D. Lippitt, president of the association, approximately one ton of coal is required to produce one ton of beet sugar. "Consequently this year the industry is consuming over a million tons of American coal, in addition to approximately 27,000,000 square yards of cotton cloth from southern mills, and substantial quantities of coke and limerock. The beet industry is also responsible for increased rail activity. An average acre of sugar beets is usually considered to represent $35 gross freight revenue to the railroads."

Because of these ramifications into other industries, it is difficult to estimate stimulation of employment, but conservative studies in America, and by the League of Nations Economic Committee at Geneva, indicate that sugar beets, throughout the world, are providing more employment per acre than any other major farm crop.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

THE projected St. Lawrence seaway has brought forth vast quantities of testimony concerning the desirability or otherwise of the scheme, and many of the points raised deserve long and careful study. But there is one point, brought up by several opponents of the plan, which might just as well be tossed out of the window right now.

This point is the reminder that in case of war between the United States and Canada the seaway would be closed to the United States and would be of military value to Canada.

That, of course, is perfectly true—but what of it? The United States and Canada have enjoyed peace for well over a century, and they are going to continue to do so in the future. If anything at all is certain in international relations, it is certain that these two nations are never going to war with one another. The question of what would happen to the seaway in case of the two countries got to fighting is one that does not need any consideration at all.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

SHEILA SHAYNE, 18, whose parents were well known vaudeville actors, is in New York looking for work. Sheila is a dancer. She has spent almost her entire life on the stage, first traveling with her parents, now dead, and later in vaudeville and road shows. Sheila lives at MA LOWELL'S theatrical rooming house.

MYRT, a vaudeville performer also out of work, lives there, too. Over the breakfast table one morning Sheila confides to Myrt that her great ambition is to marry and have a home like those she has seen in small towns in which she has played.

Ma Lowell interrupts them to announce that a telephone call has come for Sheila. It is an offer for her to fill in for DAISY GLEASON, another dancer, who has sprained her ankle. Sheila agrees eagerly and sets off for JOE PARIS' office to rehearse.

At about the same time two wealthy young men, TREVOR LANE and DICK STANLEY, are discussing plans for the party Lane is to give that night. They decide to go to Paris' office to hire some entertainers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III

SHEILA walked across 49th street to Broadway and ran lightly up the stairs to Joe Paris' place. There was an elevator — if one cared to wait for it. Sheila could delay to buy flowers from a street peddler but now a minute was too much to waste on the likes of breath-savers such as elevators.

To be sure the job in prospect wasn't much—filling in for Daisy. But it was a job nevertheless. Daisy couldn't dance but, being married to Roscoe, leader of his own band and crazy about her, it had been easy for her to win a place in the show. Sheila could fill the part far better than Daisy and knew it. She wondered—not unkindly—if Daisy's sprain was serious, if it would lay her up for some time. Sheila devoutly hoped that it would.

She was a little excited about coming to Joe Paris' place. Joe was the "King of Tin Pan Alley." He was the singing waiter from the Bowery, married now to a society girl. Joe Paris' name on a song was like sterling on silver. His praise meant instant success!

Joe of course had not hired Sheila for the part with Roscoe. Roscoe must have telephoned to Bill Brady and asked for suggestions. Bill had remembered that Sheila was not working. Frequently Joe loaned his practice rooms to dancers learning a routine—especially when they plugged his songs.

Sheila was sure Joe Paris had never even heard her name. She was right in thinking Bill had suggested her but wrong in thinking Joe Paris did not know her. He had heard her sing and when the time came that she could be useful he would know where to find her. Until then there was no use getting her hopes up, as a call from Paris himself would have been sure to do.

UPSTAIRS in Joe's shop everyone was busy. There was a long counter behind which a girl answered incessant calls from the telephone and took care of visitors. Pianos jangling Jazz throbbing. Someone crooning. Down the corridor were little practice rooms, a piano in each. Dance producers shouted to overworked, perspiring performers. Someone was trying out Joe's latest song.

Sheila, ever entranced though it was all so familiar, loved the blare of melody, the jangling discordant sounds. She loved the raucous voices, the sight of sleek-hipped, busy dance arrangers moving briskly here and there, the swarthy pianists, thick cigars hanging from the corners of their mouths, whose pudgy hands, lingering over the keys, could squeeze out unguessed melody.

Sheila had often been at Joe's to see Blind Timmy. Timmy worked there and drew a fair salary, though whether from the kindness of Joe's heart or from actual worth Sheila did not know.

She had seen Joe himself, slim, dapper, sleek of hair, abstract of expression, wandering about the place, his hat on the back of his well-groomed head, hands in his pockets. Or walking briskly toward his private office, deep in conversation with an assistant. She had seen him pause by Blind Timmy's piano, pat the bent shoulders, whisper words which seemed to bring happiness to the patient old face. Sheila loved to see Blind Timmy's face glow at these scant words of praise. Joe was a big shot now but he remembered when he had been obscure, struggling. Unlike many others who had risen to success he was constantly on the lookout for talent to match his own.

At the counter the blond, smartly groomed girl looked up from the telephone long enough to inquire of Sheila what business had brought her hither, to nod absently and shuffle a handful of cards, abstractedly murmuring "Shayne" as she did so .

A look of understanding spread over her bland countenance as she held a card separate from its fellows and studied it. Sheila wondered what secrets it held.

"Brady's waiting for you. Third door to the left," the girl assured her amiably.

SHEILA hesitated. "Will—can—Blind Timmy play for me?" she asked. She knew that it did Timmy no harm to be asked for particularly. More than that, Timmy would be helpful at such a time. Brady could scowl and rant but the nodding of Timmy's head as he listened for the click of her tiny feet was Sheila's barometer. Timmy could detect the slightest off step, could indicate that a step had been well done.

"Timmy knows me—" she went on timidly. The girl nodded. "Brady's asked for him already. They're both in there waiting. Better hustle."

Sheila breathed more easily. She had one day, hardly that, in which to memorize the routine. Brady would be sure to make it more intricate when he saw her in the offing. She could dance all around Daisy.

In the practice room she found Timmy, his hands wandering over the keyboard, blind eyes fastened on the ceiling, ears cocked for Sheila's footsteps. Brady, a slim-waisted, sophisticated youth, paced the floor impatiently. She knew Brady—a slave driver but an excellent teacher. He'd work you unmercifully but you'd have a routine when he finished with you.

"'Lo, kid," he vouchsafed in her direction and broke into a fox trot, clumsy for all his slimness. Running his eye over her figure in reluctant approval, he grunted, "You are taller than Gleason."

"Sure. But my feet are just as near the floor."

"An' Gleason is Roscoe's wife. Remember that. Don't try to walk away with the act because you can't do it."

"I'm only planning to fill in, Bill. Daisy'll be laid up several weeks, won't she?"

"Can't tell. Sometimes those sprained ankles—"

Blind Timmy turned from the piano sharply. "Shayne here is a real dancer. She'll show up Gleason."

Once more Brady grunted. "Well, we aren't running any marathons. All we have to do is teach her the routine. No matter how good she is—or how bad—she fills in for Gleason. And no matter how bad she is—or how good—when Gleason is able to dance again Shayne is through."

"It's a job, Bill. That's something."

Bill sighed as though he himself were jobless. "You said it, kid. These days. Listen, this is

HOPE

Things will be better in the spring,
I think in winter, then the thing
Is summer, then the hope of fall,
And then what wintertime may bring,
And so I manage through it all.

Men talk about the wealth they miss,
But all they ever lose is this,
Whatever way the road may slope
They never come to life's abyss
Until their hearts forget to hope.

Hold fast to hope. It is the one
Eternal thing beneath the sun.
For this I know, that if you do
No man is ever quite undone,
For hope will always bring him through.

Hope when the rest no more believe,
Hope when the hopeless sit and grieve,
Hope even when the hour is late,
For they who hope will yet receive,
As all receive, with faith to wait.

Bids on the relocation of US-41 north of Stephenson will be received by Mr. Sharpensteen's office before 10 a. m. January 18. A certified check for $1000 must accompany each bid.

The Stephenson-Daggett project calls for relocation and construction of grade and drainage structure on US-41 for 5.22 miles north of the southern limit of the village of Stephenson. The new road will pass about 720 feet east of the present route of US-41 in the heart of the village, keeping to the east bank of Little Cedar river and will pass to the east of the village of Daggett, rejoining the present route of US-41 some distance north of Daggett.

The Stephenson-Daggett project must be completed by July 1, 1933.

Truckload Of Wood Falls Through Ice

A motor truck, driven by Melvin Lippold of Stonington, which fell into the bay when an improvised bridge over an ice creek gave way Monday, was finally recovered after much effort on Bay de Noc Tuesday evening.

Lippold was driving to Escanaba from Stonington with a load of wood when the accident occurred. Several planks had been placed across the three-foot crevice, and Lippold drove up onto the bridge, believing that it was secure. The breaking up of the ice at the approaches to the bridge, however, caused the bridge to give way when the truck was on it.

The truck was totally submerged, except for the top of the cab. It was finally brought up to safe ice with the use of a tripod hoist.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG?

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples — a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c, 60c.

1932 FIRE LOSS WAS $5,596.60

Escanaba Firemen Respond to 150 Calls During Year

Escanaba's fire department responded to 150 calls in 1932, and the loss caused by these fires amounted to $5,596.60, Fire Chief Arvid Johnson reported yesterday.

Chief Johnson explained that this does not represent the entire fire loss in this community, however, for insurance claims are paid yearly on fires that are extinguished without need of calling the firemen. Local insurance agents report that considerable amount of such fire loss claims are paid annually.

In 1931, the damage caused by fires to which the department was called amounted to $4,500.

The Escanaba fire department was called on Dec. 26 to fight the fire at the I. Stephenson company's yards at Wells, where a loss of $125,000 was suffered. This is outside of the city limits, however, and is not included in this city's fire loss figures. At the request of officials of the I. Stephenson company, Deputy Fire Marshal Jeffries of Ironwood investigated the Wells fire this week. Officials of the company believed that the fire was of incendiary origin. No arrests were ordered by Fire Marshal Jeffries, and it is understood the clues are meager.

Schools at Rock To Reopen Monday

Rock, Mich.—Maple Ridge township schools will re-open Monday, January 9, following a two weeks' vacation during Christmas and New Years holidays.

Supt. George Weingartner announced that Miss Hazel Canfield, of Gladstone, has been appointed to teach at the North Rock school, a vacancy caused by the resignation of P. R. Communication

FARMER BRUCE SPEAKS

My Dear Editor:

The lame duck has finally come home to roost.

I want to thank you for your kind editorial.

During the time I spent in Lansing I have made many friends, whose memory I wish to cherish the rest of my time, even though our paths should never cross. When a group of men spend the days and evenings together the most part of a year, they get to know each other quite well and part with regrets.

The legislature and state departments have undergone quite a change of heart since the depression has come upon us. From the extravagant demands imposed in times past, the demand now, is for the most rigid economy.

There are communities in Michigan indebted now to an amount which exceeds their assessed valuation. May I be forgiven, if I feel that I had some small part in accompilishing such change. This causes me to think back to a time about twelve years ago when one state official tried to compel this township to issue bonds. I was supervisor at the time, and like the Great Apostle, I was harassed, threatened, sued, held in contempt and nearly put in jail because I would not obey authority.

This community met the depression without any local public debt, and our tax rate, now, is very low.

I have, again, been asked to become a candidate for supervisor from this township but respectfully declined.

The day after election I felt like exclaiming with Old Job, "That which I have feared is now upon me." But since received some inspiration from the fact that Mr. Legg, Deprato, Van Brocklin and my old seat-mate, Jim Helme, are all around seventy-five.

Will hope that the boys are able to do something to give courage to our hearts and work to the willing. But, I feel that the remedy lies mostly with the national government. They should and will lighten the taxpayers' burden.

Among my souvenirs I have several letters and clippings, which show that someone felt that I deserved some recognition. There is for instance one written by Mr. Rood, author and sponsor of the one and one-half percent tax amendment, in the fall issue of the Home Patriot Bulletin, and reads as follows:

"We would like to call your particular attention to four members of the legislature, the only ones in the entire legislature, who voted each time against the destruction of civil rights of the people. They are Senator Sandowski and Representatives Bruce, Hinkley and Johnson."

I have a letter from Mr. Bradley, whom I think will today be honored with the speakership of the house, which reads: "You built a fine reputation as a useful member of the house and you deserved re-election."

Ex-Governor Brucker wrote: "Your record is one of which any man might well be proud. I have no doubt but that this fact will become increasingly clear to your constituents in the coming weeks and months."

Some sovereign somewhere at some time is supposed to have said: "He is not fit to govern, who can not endure the ingratitude of his people." So we will endure.

As my good friend from Menominee county has promised to send me the Journal daily I will watch the proceedings from a distance with interest and after finished chore you will perhaps find me in deep meditation sitting on the feed box, and as I wrote a friend the other day, watching the cows with well-filled bellies contended, chewing their cud.

Yours truly,
FARMER BRUCE.

P. S.—I wish to thank those friends who supported me in the last election. Those who did not have the undying gratitude of my good wife.

French Designer Call U. S. Woman World's Smartest

Paris (AP)—American women are the smartest in the world, in the opinion of one of the foremost French fashion designers.

"The American woman's figure is her first fashion asset and her intelligence and imagination have enabled her to set a record in chic," says Lucien Lelong, who has recently returned from a sojourn in the United States.

Shopgirls Well Groomed

"The way the American woman has retained her smartness at a time when she can't spend much money has impressed me anew.

"Even the shopgirl is chic and well groomed and wears her clothes with verve. How long Americans maintain that record, however, is up to them. They mustn't relax."

Spring styles for 1933 will take on entirely new lines with "subtlety" for their watchword, the designer declared. The rule of "simple sophistication," in vogue for the past two seasons will change to one complicated in cut, and attention to accessories and details will leap into prominence.

New Fabrics Coming

New fabrics will be one of the most important notes in the mode, with the old all-wool all-silk materials replaced by new mixtures of silk and wool, silk and linen and artificial silk and cotton. Prints promise to be important.

Colors will take on new tones, neutral shades giving way to bright hues.

Mrs. Roosevelt Will Write "It's Up to the Women"

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has been one of the most active women in the country since her husband was elected president, is going to write a 40,000-word book between now and the March inauguration.

Frederick A. Stokes company, publishers, announced tonight that the title will be "It's Up to the Women"; that the subject matter "deals with the American woman of today, her position in the nation and what she can do in a practical way to bring about better conditions"; and that "there will be no collaborator; every word will be written by Mrs. Roosevelt herself."

FOR FORMAL EFFECTS

White calla lilies, artificial of course, placed in black bowls, are effective for decorative purposes in dining rooms that go in for a formality that belongs to a house with traditions.

But if your home is informal, forget about black and white effects. Go in for wide couches with gay cushions, plump candles, and easy chairs. Informality is much easier with which to live than formality.

Beware of Colds NOW!

With Flu in the Air Colds Are Doubly Dangerous

Colds—always treacherous—are doubly dangerous now, with flu reported in many sections. They lower body strength and pave the way for flu and all its serious complications. Heed even the slightest sniffle as a danger signal. It's no time to take chances.

The safest course to follow is that outlined in Vicks Plan for better Control-of-Colds. In clinical tests last winter, Vicks Plan reduced the number and spread of colds by half!—cut their dangers and costs more than half! Full details of the plan are in each Vicks package. Briefly, it is this:

TO PREVENT MANY COLDS: At that first feeling of stuffiness or nasal irritation, sniffle or sneeze—Nature's usual warning that a cold is coming on—use Vicks Nose & Throat Drops, the new aid in preventing colds. Vicks Drops aid Nature in throwing off the infection that threatens. They prevent development of many colds.

TO END A COLD SOONER: If a cold has developed or strikes without warning, vigorous measures are necessary. At bedtime, apply Vicks VapoRub. Its direct double action—continuing through the night—brings quicker relief. During the day, use the convenient Vicks Nose Drops every few hours as needed. They add to comfort—help shorten the cold.

Follow Vicks Plan for Better CONTROL of Colds

NEW PROPOSALS ARE EXPECTED

Inspector Makes Survey Of Proposed Post-office Sites

New prospective sites, or revised bids on sites previously offered may be submitted to the United States Treasury department, according to Postal Inspector Geo. P. Reidenbach, who is here for several days investigating proposed sites for the new federal post-office building which has been allotted to Gladstone.

These bids may be submitted to Inspector Reidenbach before he leaves the city today, or may be sent direct to Washington. While no definite time limit has been set for the acceptance of proposals, it is indicated that immediate action is desired.

Accessability to the people, thinking mainly of pedestrians, is one of the chief factors taken into consideration in determining sites of new federal buildings. Length of haul from the depot or discharge point is now of little consequence as with automotive transportation a mile or so matters little in the element of time or efficiency of delivery.

Money for purchase of the site and erection of the building has already been appropriated and it is believed here that construction will start soon after definite selection of a site.

Inspector Reidenbach stated that the government will not haggle over the price to be paid for the site, but is willing to pay a reasonable price—one that an ordinary person purchasing the property for other purposes would be willing to pay. The approximate price for a local set has been set at $9,000.

A number of revised proposals are expected to be turned in.

Harbor Ice Rink Skating Surface Injured By Sand

Gladstone's adult ice skating rink, located at the small boat harbor in the park, will require additional flooding before it is in the best of shape for good skating, strong winds the early part of the week having whipped sand to the surface. The rink will be brought into shape as rapidly as possible dependent on weather conditions.

The flooding is being done by hose instead of with a centrifugal pump as originally planned. Use of the pump would have necessitated erection of a 3-phase electric line for some distance and the use of power. Laying of some 80 feet of two inch pipe from a hydrant at the end of Central avenue to the edge of the rink allows the use of hose and city water, at far less expense.

Plans are being made to line the west side of the rink with discarded Christmas trees, which will act as a windbreak. It is believed that the trees will also tend to lessen trouble from the sand, although a blanket of snow is thought to be the only sure eliminator of the trouble.

6 Sharpen Eyes at First Indoor Shoot, Another Tonight

Sixteen members of the Gladstone Rifle and Pistol club participated in the first shoot of the year held Tuesday evening on the indoor range set up in the basement of the Norstrom garage at 1 Central avenue.

The second of the winter's series of matches, which will be held on Tuesday and Thursday evenings each week, will be held this evening, starting about 7 o'clock. Guns and ammunition will be brought to the range by the executive officer. Display of membership cards will be required of each person before participating in the match.

STUDENTS HAVE GOOD RECORDS

Gladstone High Grads at NSTC Earn Places On Honor Roll

Fifty per cent of Gladstone's 14 students who are attending the Northern State Teachers' college made the fall term honor roll, a communication received by Sup't A. R. Watson, of the Gladstone public school system, reveals. This is high as only about 20 per cent of the entire enrollment at the college gained places on the select list.

Marquette, Negaunee and Ishpeming were the only cities to top Gladstone in number of students placing on the roll, and no doubt because of their proximity to the college the enrollments from these places are far greater than from here.

Every Gladstone student received passing marks in all subjects, not a single "F" being listed. A compilation reveals that local students received 11 A's, 21 B's, 22 C's, and 2 D's.

Among those attending the college are Marie Bredahl, Virginia Goodman, Merle Hawkins, Winifred Jackson, Gertrude Kee, Elizabeth Kee, Mildred Kjellander, Margaret LaFaver, Robert Mathison, James Mitchell, William Norens, Grayce Norton, John Norton and Fern Woodhall.

National Commander Louis A. Johnson will be the principal speaker and will use as his topic, "National Defense." No arrangements for a meeting at which all Legionnaires may listen in will be made here.

Park Employment Is Nearing Completion

Leveling of a pile of material excavated at the boat harbor is now in its final stages. A pick and shovel crew aided by truck is still at the job, but the work is expected to be completed within a few days.

This brings city employment for relief purposes to its lowest ebb in some time, as it is the last of a program of projects and when finished will end city employment for the present except for routine work.

NO VARIATION IN BIRTHS, DEATHS

Records Show Great Correlation in Years 1931-1932

Exception correlation in birth and death statistics for the city of Manistique in the years 1931 and 1932 is shown by the records which indicate a population increase of two persons exclusive of migration. Deaths in 1932 numbered 67 as compared with 143 for the year 1931. In 1930 births totalled 154, but the death rate was exceedingly high according to 1931 and 1932 figures, 97 deaths taking place.

Of the 144 births, records show that 80 were boys and 64 girls. Death records indicate that 40 were males and only 27 females.

Cupid Works Hard

Dan Cupid was far from being idle despite the great amount of unemployment and economic stress. County records show the issuance of 77 marriage licenses, the greatest number in the past four years. In 1931 only 52 marriage licenses were issued. Eighty-one licenses were issued in Schoolcraft county in 1928, the highest total in the last five-year period.

Marriage license records covering the past 62 years show the high mark to have been in 1920 when 112 permits were issued, the next highest number in 1919 with 92; and the third greatest number in 1905 when 89 licenses were issued by the county clerk.

The record for the past five years is as follows: 1928, 81; 1929, 71; 1930, 58; 1931, 52; 1932, 77.

SOCIAL

Twenty members of the Young Women's Guild and one guest were present at the meeting held Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. A. W. Cockrom, 323 Walnut street. A short business session was held followed by a social hour. Dainty refreshments with a trend toward New Year's in the decorations were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Cockram and Miss Lydia Krenger. Mrs. Violet Creighton, of Detroit, was the guest of the club.

Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Boncher entertained nine guests at their home New Year's Day. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock and was followed by a social evening.

At the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krummey and niece, Merle Denny, Mr. and Mrs. William Krummey, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Dausey, Mrs. Margaret Redmond and Jay Redmond.

Denver—What is worse than a good, old-fashioned case of home sickness? Little Curtis Phifer, 12, remarks that there is nothing just as miserable. The lad was taken from the custody of his mother, Mrs. Nan Phifer, and placed on a farm near Boulder. Curtis didn't think much of the farm, so he started to trudge 30 weary miles back to his mother's arms. Authorities found him with his mother, and it was decided to let her keep him.

COURT OPENERS THRILL CROWD

Westsiders Upset Fords 18-41; Sinclair Oils Whip Nortons 36-23

Approximately 200 spectators witnessed the opening games in the Manistique City Basketball league Tuesday evening at the old gymnasium when the Sinclair Oils last year's champions, trimmed the Nortons, 36-23, and the Westside defeated the Fords, 48-41, in two thrilling encounters.

The best played and most exciting encounter was the Westside-Ford contest, a see-saw affair with never more than four or five points separating the teams. The Fords with Wassberg and Kelly as the main sparkplugs started away to a slight lead, being on the tail end of a 11-7 count in the first quarter and finishing a head at the half, 23-19.

The beginning of the second half was a different story, however, as Jack Williams, ably assisted by Marin, Mueller, and Jahn, found the netting consistently to close up the margin and establish a two point lead at the close of the third quarter. With the score 33-31, the Westsiders maintained their rally and outscored their opponents in the final stanza by rolling in 15 points to ten for the Fords.

High individual scorer was Jack Williams who garnered 11 field goals and three free throws for a total of 25 points. Wassberg and Kelly led the scoring for the Fords, the former sinking nine baskets and two free throws while Kelly counted five times from the field. Both teams demonstrated great scoring ability and concentrated but little on defense.

The second game proved a trifle rougher than the first with the Nortons committing 14 fouls to their opponents ten. The first half was fairly even with the Sinclairs finishing on the heavy end of a 15-12 score. Ralph Williams and Jones led the Sinclairs' rally in the second half to increase the lead to 13 points. Berger, lanky Norton center, was the only one to successfully penetrate the Sinclair's defense, and counted three field goals. Dugan and R. Williams led the attack for the winners with ten and nine points respectively.

Local court fans will see the Lauermans and Drevdahls tangle tonight in the first game of a doubleheader. The Fords, seeking their first win of the season, will try to upset the Champion Sinclair Oils. The first game will start promptly at eight o'clock.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Financial markets turned about today and rallied vigorously.

For stocks the improvement was slow but steady until the last hour when shorts covered more aggressively, piling up net gains of 1 to around 5 points in many trading favorites. For bonds, leadership was supplied by federal issues, most of which made new highs. Wheat, rising more than a cent, profited by a livelier speculative interest induced in part by weather news and strong Liverpool quotations. Cotton gained 90 cents to $1.25 a bale net.

Altogether, it was the market's best day in some weeks. Wall Street suddenly seemed to find itself with a variety of topics to talk about, though the extent to which such subjects influenced prices was difficult to determine. Figuring prominently in the news budget were the domestic allotment plan for farm commodities, inflation gossip in and out of Washington, further proposals for, and statements on government economy and the ever-present hope of a fair spring recovery in business.

The upturn by shares was broad, though it was most impressive in stocks that were harboring the largest short interests. Farm implement issues naturally responded to wheat's advance, Case closing up more than 4 points and Harvester about 2. American Telephone, Allied Chemical and Auburn rose 4½ to nearly 5. U. S. Steel issues improved the better part of 3 points, while Du Pont, American Can, Consolidated Gas, National Biscuit, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Lackawanna, American Tobacco "B" and Bethlehem rallied 2 to 3½. Transactions totaled 1,093,288 shares, in sharp contrast to yesterday's small volume.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Jan. 4—Decided increase of speculative buying did much to give an all-around hoist to grain values today.

Lively demand for future deliveries of all cereals was in evidence from start to finish, and led to the best advance witnessed in weeks. Friends of price upturns asserted Europe was giving belated recognition to the fact that without the United States surplus the world wheat supply and demand situation was a strong rather than a weak one, and that but little wheat in this country was available either to foreign or home markets at prevailing prices.

Wheat closed strong at virtually the day's top, 1¾ to 1 5-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 7-8 up, oats 3-8 advanced, and provisions showing 2 to 20 cents gain.

Corn and oats readily responded to wheat strength. Industries were bidding for corn to arrive.

Provisions advanced with hog values and with grains.

Closing grademnities: Wheat—May, 45 5-8 to 3-4, 47¼ to 3-4; July, 45½, 47 1-8 to ¼; September, 48, offers. Corn—May 26 3-4 to 7-8, 27 5-8; July, 28, 28 3-4.

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—The bond market snapped back sharply today with the United States government department taking the lead in recoveries which embraced all categories.

The volume increased with the price upturn, sales totaling $12,237,000, par value. The average for 60 domestic corporate loans advanced six-tenths of a point.

Nearly all of the federals exceeded their 1932 high levels, the principal activity being centered in Liberty 3½s and fourth 4¼s and treasury 3s, 3 1-8s and 4¼s. The turnover in the government group approximated $2,400,000 at par. Gains ranged from 3-32nds to 27-32nds of a point.

Among the most prominent gainers were some loans of American & Foreign Power, American Telephone, Baltimore & Ohio, Bethlehem Steel, Boston & Maine, Consolidated Gas, Chesapeake & Ohio, Chicago Great Western, Chicago & Northwestern, Rock Island, Denver & Rio Grande, Detroit Edison, Goodrich, Illinois Central, International Great Northern, International Hydro-Electric, "Soo" Line, Metropolitan Edison, Missouri Pacific, New York Central, Nickel Plate, New York Edison, Northern Pacific, Pacific Gas, Paramount Publix, Pennsylvania, Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron, Shell Union Oil, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Tobacco Products, U. S. Rubber, Utilities Power & Light, Western Pacific and Western Union.

Spirited Bidding Spurs Curb for 140,000 Turnover

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER
(Associated Press Financial Editor)

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Stimulated by the brisk rise on the big board, the curb market today threw off its inertia and advanced vigorously. The turnover increased moderately, with transfers at 140,000 shares compared with 90,000 yesterday.

Trading favorites among utilities and industrials shot ahead in a manner suggesting active bidding by an uneasy short interest. Gains of one to three points were recorded in Electric Bond and Share, Consolidated Gas of Baltimore, American Gas & Electric, Buffalo Niagara Eastern Power first preferred, American Light & Traction and New England Power preferred.

Aluminum Co. of America jumped about 4 points and Adams Millis preferred made a similar gain. Swift International improved more than a point, and Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad, a New York Central subsidiary, rose three points on small sales. Newmont led the way in the mining division with a rise of about 2 points.

Wall Street expects early offering of a $5,000,000 issue of Consolidated Gas, Electric Light & Power Co. of Baltimore first refunding 4 percent bonds, with a 1981 maturity.

your first step. The kick off. One two, one two, three and four!" He ceased abruptly.

"When'd you dance last?"

"Five weeks ago," Sheila answered ruefully. "I'm due to be lame, Bill. I know that."

SHEILA stood on the floor waiting. It was fine to be back at work again, even though her dream had been Big Time or a specialty in a musical show. Here she was, delighted to be filling in for Daisy Gleason whose only claim to the "profession" was that she had married Roscoe.

There was a happy couple for you in the stage world! Roscoe and Daisy. One said Roscoe and Daisy as if the names had grown together, were syllables of the same name. Never a quarrel, never a cross word between them as far as anyone knew—which was pretty far in the show business!

Sheila had tossed off her coat and stood in the little suit skirt and frilly white blouse, hardly a practice costume but donned to impress the managers who would not have lifted an eyebrow had she arrived in plaid pajamas, so hardened were they to unusual costumes and feminine charms.

"Listen," Bill stopped scowling long enough to say. "Hop out to the desk and ask Mabel to give you a suit of rompers. I've got some lively kicks coming and there's no use ruining a decent skirt."

Mabel was none too cordial. She was being interrupted for the third time that morning in a confidential telephone chat with her young man. She had ridden to work with him that morning on the Bronx subway and would see him at lunch, but love is love!

"Oh, honey," Sheila wailed, handing back a size 40 suit of practice clothes. "I can't wear that! Give me a break, will you? What on earth do you think I've reduced 10 pounds for?"

"I'll ask the Prince of Wales," replied Mabel haughtily but presently she flung a suit of blue, just Sheila's size, at her from the collection in the lower desk drawer.

Dressed for work, Sheila watched Bill move through graceless gyrations with elephantine skill. She did not dream of smiling, even inwardly. These steps, shorn of Bill's quaint, earnest interpretation, were suave, fascinating. His routines were known—and copied—up and down Broadway.

"You take a coupla slides here, see?" said Bill between scowls. Unexpectedly he stopped, one foot suspended in midair.

"Now you try, sister," Bill Brady ordered.

SHIP AND PLANE TO CUT OCEAN CROSSING

London — The Transatlantic Corp., Ltd., hopes within the next year or so to build a great deep water harbor and airport on Galway Bay, West Ireland, and to combine a ship-airplane schedule from that point and Halifax, Nova Scotia, which will bring Canada and the United States within four days' travel from Moscow and Rome.

Direct air services would be run from Galway to London, which is a three and a half-hour flight, and to European countries.

Fast ships would make the trip across the Atlantic and, if timed to arrive at Galway by dawn, almost any part of Europe could be reached in four days from the United States.

Sir John Purser Griffiths, noted engineer, and Maxwell Ayrton, architect, are said to be working on plans for this project.

Stagg Mentioned as Successor to Jim Crowley

CASTEEL ALSO A POSSIBILITY

Position to Be Filled By March 1 at Michigan State

East Lansing, Jan. 4 (AP)—The Michigan State college administration today was casting about for a successor to James H. Crowley, inimitable horseman of the gridiron who resigned as head football coach last night to accept a post at Fordham university.

President Robert S. Shaw said he expected to make as "speedy disposition of the matter as possible," indicating that Crowley's successor will be named not later than March 1. He said he hoped to have a man selected that would "continue the athletic program and the football program on the same high plane it now enjoys."

While no indication was given as to Crowley's possible successor, the athletic department was not suffering from lack of applications. Ralph H. Young, director of athletics, said his office had been flooded with letters and telegrams from willing coaches throughout the country.

In the first cluster of those mentioned for the post, the name of Amos Alonzo Stagg, the grand old man of the midway and former Chicago coach, was prominent. An anonymous telegram was received by athletic authorities suggesting his name.

Miles W. Casteel, assistant backfield coach here, was also being mentioned. Casteel was chief scout under the Crowley regime and was given his share of credit by him for many Spartan victories. Casteel is popular on the campus. His service with the college dates back to the days when Young was head football coach.

A third person to receive early attention is Dan Peden, former Illinois star and head coach at Ohio university. Peden has also been mentioned as a possible successor to Stagg at Chicago.

Young announced today the college athletic council will be called to session next Monday afternoon for a preliminary session with regard to choosing a coach.

SURPRISES DOCTOR

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—Amos Alonzo Stagg, retired football coach of the University of Chicago, today surprised his physician and belied 71 years as he rallied from an attack of influenza and bronchial pneumonia.

Laid low last week just as he was being feted by coaches and athletic leaders for his 41 years of service and as he was mapping out new gridirons to conqueror, Stagg suffered from the disease like a young man and tonight was definitely on the way to recovery.

"He has the constitution of a man of 30," said Dr. Max Rohde, a football pupil of Stagg in the early 1900's, "and I wouldn't be surprised to find him still coaching football for many more years."

Stagg, contemptuous of the "soft" life, Chicago university officials stepped out for him when they retired him as active coach because of his age, was busy looking for a new coaching post when he was taken ill. Now, convalescing, he is impatient to be out of bed and back on the quest before all the jobs are taken by someone else.

Stephenson Quint To Play at Rock On Friday Evening

Rock, Mich.—Rock high school players, after two weeks holiday activity, will return to their basketball warfare this week, meeting Stephenson high school on the local gym Friday evening. The reserve teams of both schools will meet in a preliminary game.

The Little Giants have been practicing daily during the Christmas vacation and will make every endeavor to capture a victory against the Menominee county boys. The locals won their first victory of the season two weeks ago against Eben and are determined to continue the winning ways. Previous to the Eben game, the team had lost to Gladstone and Escanaba. With the added experience of three games, the boys are showing improvement in their general playing and can be expected to give Stephenson a hard tussle.

Stephenson has a veteran team this year and has made a good early season record. Coach Carlson's proteges will be seeking revenge for the defeat handed them last year by the locals.

The preliminary game promises to furnish plenty of action. The local reserves have a high scoring combination that has, thus far, ran roughshod over the Delta County Normal five and Harris high school. This preliminary will begin at 7:30 o'clock and the feature game will follow an hour later.

Chicago May Get Two Maxies for World's Fair Go

New York, Jan. 4. (AP)—George F. Getz, Chicago sportsman who aided Tex Rickard in the promotion of the second Tunney-Dempsey fight, will arrive here tomorrow to discuss the possibility of bringing the Max Schmeling-Max Baer match to Chicago next summer, Jack Dempsey said today.

Getz is chairman of the Chicago committee arranging the sports program for the world's fair.

While no definite offer has been made, Dempsey said he would discuss the situation in general with Getz, although one of the most serious obstacles as far as boxing in Chicago is concerned is the Illinois law setting ten rounds as a maximum for non-championship matches.

Schmeling, who with Baer signed articles recently for a match under Dempsey's promotion in June, insists that the bout be for fifteen rounds.

Dempsey said he already had received offers to take the bout to Cleveland, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, Agua Caliente, and Philadelphia. He will leave here within a month on a "shopping" tour of the proposed sites.

Ernie Smith Has Sore Lips, Can't Toot On Trombone

Los Angeles, Jan. 4 (AP)—Pittsburgh's football team turned its back on California today.

After a round of sight-seeing which followed their 35 to 0 defeat in the Rose tournament game at Pasadena Monday, the Panthers boarded an east bound train this afternoon with scheduled stops at the Grand Canyon and Albuquerque, N. M., enroute home.

In the meantime more than a thousand persons gathered at a civic luncheon today to do honor to the University of Southern California team which beat Pitt to run its streak of consecutive victories to twenty.

The crowd called on Ernie Smith, All-American trombone tooting tackle, for a display of his musical talents, but he declined on the grounds that a Panther player had stepped on his face and his lips were too sore to play.

ESKYMOS FACE UPBAYS MONDAY

Local Cagers Preparing For Tough Battle At Gladstone

The Escanaba basketball squad resumed practice sessions at the junior high school gymnasium yesterday afternoon in preparation for the first of two games scheduled with their most respected rival, Gladstone. The game will be played Monday night at Gladstone.

Fortunately the Eskymo squad has evaded the flu epidemic in great style and when Coach Carl Nordberg came back to Escanaba Tuesday after spending the holidays at his home in St. Joseph, Mich., he found his first string players all on hand to answer the roll call for the first post-holiday practice session.

The local squad of basket tossers will hold regular practice sessions daily from 2 to 4 o'clock in preparation for the Gladstone game. School will not reopen, however, until Monday, a fact which prompted a postponement of the Escanaba Gladstone game from Friday, Jan. 6, to Monday, Jan. 9.

Coach Nordberg reported yesterday his first string men consisting of Monson and L. Erickson, guards; W. Erickson, center; and Christensen and Labre, forwards, have been developing rapidly and are performing smoother than at any previous time.

The Gladstone squad is regarded as exceptionally tough and with the added advantage of playing on their home court probably will rate the favorite against the Eskymos in spite of the fact that the Keilmen lost to St. Joseph, a team which was defeated by the Eskymos. The Upbays faced the Parochials on the latter's home court and the Eskymos defeated St. Joseph in a game played at the junior high school, the home court for the Nordmen. On the other hand, Gladstone trounced Rock, a team which the Eskymos had difficulty defeating.

College Football Sees Menace in Pro Games

New York, Jan. 4. (AP)—College football is not on the decline, merely because it is one of the victims of the business depression, the presidents research committee on social trends believes, but it faces the possibility that "public interest may eventually shift from college to professional football because of the superior skill of the latter."

"If this should happen," writes Dr. J. F. Steiner, professor of sociology at the University of Washington, who contributed the chapter on sports and recreation to the national committee report, "college football may follow college baseball and decline as a public spectacle, becoming a game of no more than local interest.

"That grave ills have resulted from the stress and struggle to win football championships there can be no doubt," Dr. Steiner's report concludes. "A few of the leading colleges and universities already have attempted to reorganize their athletics more in accord with general student welfare and educational ideals."

No "Passing Whim"

The section on sports in the survey conducted by the president's committee, in its football features, follows somewhat the lines of the famous "Bulletin 23" of the Carnegie foundation for the advancement of teaching, published in October, 1929. The new survey, so far as its statistics are concerned, covers only the period up to and including 1930.

It points out that college football, because of its tremendous investments in stadia, which must be paid for in future years, establishes the sport as something more than a "passing whim." Moreover, it says "since neither the curve of attendance nor the curve of receipts showed any tendency to flatten out previous to 1930, there is reason to assume that hard times, rather than declining interest, is responsible for the decreased size of football crowds."

Dr. Steiner writes that 49 colleges and universities replying to a survey "reported that attendance more than doubled between 1921 and 1930, the increase being 119 per cent."

Receipts Gain

"Football receipts, as reported by 65 institutions, grew from $2,695,345 to $8,363,674, a gain of 210 per cent. Both attendance and receipts increased with considerable regularity during the first nine years of this period, with a sharp falling off in 1930, the decline over the preceding year amounting to 6 per cent in the case of admissions and 9 per cent in receipts.

Since then Associated Press surveys have indicated a decline for 1931-32 of approximately 25 per cent in college football attendance, with a greater percentage of decrease in gate receipts.

The report notes further:

"The total attendance at all football games in 1930, estimated from reports received from 109 institutions, was approximately 10,300,000. The total receipts, computed in a similar way from data furnished by 129 institutions could not have been less than $21,500,000.

Built Huge Stadium

"The average gross receipts per school in 1930 ranged from $5,565 for colleges of less than 500 students to $245,417 for universities of the largest size. Of the 129 institutions reporting receipts for 1930, 8 reported gross receipts in excess of $500,000 each and 33 reported receipts of more than $100,000.

"The spectacular increase in attendance at football games during the past decade has been accompanied by a wave of grand stand and stadium building surpassing any previous developments of this kind.

"According to reports from 135 institutions, the seating facilities for football spectators increased from 929,523 in 1920 to 2,307,850 in 1930, a gain of 148 per cent.

"These institutions reported 74 concrete stadia, 55 of which had been built since 1920. Only one of these college stadia in 1929 had a seating capacity of more than 70,000, while there were seven in this class in 1930."

BRITISH RACER WILL TRY AGAIN

Sir Malcolm Campbell Believes 300-Miles an Hour Possible

London, Jan. 4 (AP)—Still dissatisfied with his automobile speed record Sir Malcolm Campbell will go to Daytona Beach, Fla., in February again to send his powerful Bluebird II roaring along the white sands toward the 300-mile-an-hour mark.

He announced today that he would ship his rebuilt racer with its 2,500 horsepower motor to Daytona Beach Jan. 18 and would follow on the Aquitania Jan. 25. He thus will have a few weeks to tune his machine before beach conditions reach their best, late in February.

The horsepower of his car has been nearly doubled and the body streamlined further to cut down air resistance.

Three times Sir Malcolm has shattered existing records for the mile on the racing strip of the Florida resort, last year raising the mark to 253.96 miles an hour. He has said he considers a speed of 300 miles an hour possible and it is believed that is the ambition that is driving him on.

Sir Malcolm, knighted in 1931 by King George after he had raised the record to 245.733 miles an hour from 231.36 set by the late Sir Henry Segrave in 1929, is now 48 years old and nearing the age when he must give up his hazardous occupation. He is independently wealthy.

YANKEES DROP JIMMY BURKE

Spring Training Camp Roster to Leave March 1 and 5

New York, Jan. 4 (AP)—The New York Yankees announced today the unconditional release of Coach Jimmy "Sunset" Burke and a roster of 33 players who will make the trek to the world champions' spring training camp at St. Petersburg, Fla., in two detachments March 1 and 8.

The release of Burke, long a lieutenant of Manager Joe McCarthy came as a surprise, inasmuch as the Yankees, in the recent baseball meetings, opposed successfully a move to reduce rosters by including coaches in the player limit of 23.

Burke joined the Chicago Cubs as coach in 1925 when McCarthy took over the management. Back in 1911, when Burke managed Indianapolis he reduced McCarthy from second baseman to bench duty but that failed to mar a firm friendship.

No reason was announced for Burke's release, and his place was taken on the roster by Paul Krichell, listed also as a Yankee scout. Arthur Fletcher, former manager of the Phillies, and Ralph "Cy" Perkins, long a catcher with the Athletics, were retained as coaches.

Five Rookie Pitchers

The roster revealed that "Red" Rolfe, former Dartmouth shortstop star who played sensational ball with Newark on the International league Yankee "farm," would not go south with the team. The names of Ed Wells, veteran southpaw, and George Selkirk, young outfielder, also were excluded from the list, the assumption being that all three will spend the summer in Newark.

In addition to the coaches and Manager McCarthy, the roster listed 14 pitchers, 9 infielders, 7 outfielders, and three catchers.

Five of the recruits are pitchers and will report to the camp March 1. They are right handers Don Brennan and Pete Jablonowski, both from Newark; Jimmy Deshong, Sacramento; and Russell Van Atta, St. Paul, and Marvin Duke, Erie, both southpaws.

Fred Walker, from Newark, is the only rookie outfielder bolstering the Yankee clouting veterans, headed by Babe Ruth, but the roster includes three young infielders in Bill Werber, shortstop from Buffalo; Roy Schalk, from Oklahoma City; and Jack Saltzgaver, who had a trial last season but dropped back to Newark.

Joe Glenn, from Newark, is added to the veteran catching staff of Bill Dickey and Arndt Jorgens.

Infielders and outfielders report to camp March 8.

VULCAN IS NEXT FOR PAROCHIALS

St. Joseph Resumes An Old Rivalry Here Friday Night

The St. Joseph basketball squad will play their second game of the week Friday evening at the Coliseum gymnasium, meeting Vulcan in an engagement that promises lots of excitement for the fans. The Vulcan-St. Joseph rivalry is of long standing and exceptionally keen.

Both schools are Class C institutions and the Vulcan game marks the first game of the season for the Parochials which has a bearing on the seeding of the Class C tournament which will be held here in March. The winner will receive one point for the victory and also one point for each additional victory scored against a Class C team. The team with the greatest number of points at the close of the season will be seeded No. 1 at the district tournament. The Parochials have met Class B and Class D teams to date but they have not opposed a Class C team this season.

The Purgolds are especially desirous of defeating the Parochials as they have lost many athletic decisions to the St. Joseph teams in recent years. The local team defeated Vulcan in football last fall and also tripped them up twice in basketball last season. St. Joseph won from Vulcan there, 19 to 18, and defeated them in Escanaba, 28 to 21, last year.

The Vulcan team will come to Escanaba with a veteran combination that promises to give the Parochials one of the stiffest fights of the season. Among the veterans of former years performing with the Purgolds again include Gironnomi and Bonettie, forwards; Schlinder, center, and Setlock and Vicenzi, guards.

The St. Joseph combination will include Jacobs at center; McGovern, Bodette and Harvey, forwards; Boddy, Brazeau and Beaumier, guards. Harvey and Brazeau, regulars now, will become ineligible during the second semester and Coach Brunello has been drilling McGoverno and Beaumier to fill in these positions.

A fast preliminary game is scheduled between the strong Marble Arms quintet of Gladstone and the St. Joseph Alumni combination. The Alumni team was recently formed and is regarded as a potent aggregation. This game will start at 7 o'clock with the feature game following at 8 o'clock.

John Gafner will handle the whistle in the games.

Welter Champion Now Middleweight

Boston, Jan. 4 (AP)—Lou Brouillard of Worcester, youthful former welterweight champion, has deserted the classification he once ruled and will hereafter box as a middleweight.

Brouillard told the state boxing commission he could no longer fight at 147 pounds and his natural fighting weight now is 156 pounds. He said he had difficulty making 153 pounds in order to meet Jimmy Smith in Philadelphia recently, a bout in which he was defeated, and that hereafter he would go into the heavier class.

Must Bond Deputies

Iron Mountain — Upwards of 100 sheriff's deputies in Dickinson county, including the deputized officers at the Ford Motor company plant, those at mining properties and the sheriff's own staff, are affected by the ruling enforced by most of the larger bonding companies this year which provides that no application for any sheriff's bond shall be accepted for issue unless all of his deputies are likewise bonded.

Losses sustained by bonding companies during the last two years particularly as a result of unprotected deputy service, it is said, prompted the new regulation.

Chicago Man Faces Charge Of Forgery

James Donovan, 48, Chicago, will be arraigned in justice court this morning on a charge of issuing fraudulent checks.

He was picked up by Escanaba police when he was pointed out by an employee of the Ben Lindberg store as the man who cashed a bad check at the store several weeks ago.

Donovan, who said he has been employed as a substitute mail clerk in the Chicago postoffice, denies the charge. He claims he came here by bus Tuesday night and stopped off here to spend the night before departing for Marquette, where he planned to visit his mother.

A half dozen forged checks are in the possession of the police, and judging from the handwriting the checks were written by the same person. Blank checks were stolen from the offices of the John K. Stack company and Justice of the Peace H. E. Ranguette, and had been used by the forger. A check of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron company also was included among the forgeries. The checks were made payable to fictitious persons, including such names as Rex Johnson, Frank Johnson, Joe Moore and Charles Moore. They were cashed by several Escanaba merchants.
